Black Hole Rigidity[1]

JIM ISENBERG, University of Oregon

We show that for arbitrary spacetime dimensions greater than or equal to 3+1, stationary black holes which are analytic solutions of the vacuum Einstein equations must have an extra symmetry (in addition to the assumed stationarity).

[1]In collaboration with Vincent Moncrief, Yale University.