Finite Difference Solution of the Quantum Wigner Function in the Presence of a Magnetic Field: PML Absorbing Boundary Condition

TOMAS MATERDEY, University of Massachusetts Boston — Numerical results using a perfectly matching layer (PML) absorbing boundary condition for the finite-difference time evolution of the quantum Vlasov equation are presented. Comparisons with previous results based on the constant flux approach are discussed.

Tomas Materdey
University of Massachusetts Boston