A Scientific Look at Global Warming  PETER GLANZ, Rhode Island College — Scientists like we should ask “Where’s the Beef?” when a global warming discussion comes up. Current issues like melting glaciers, rising sea levels, disappearing polar bears and increasing tornado activity (among many) are put to the WTB test.