Can Naturoptics for Safe Recovery of Vision Fund Brazilians' Educations? SILVIA FLÁVIA RIBIERO, CÉLIA CARMEM RIBEIRO DUARTE, Goiana, Goias, Brazil, ROGER DAVID MC LEOD<sup>1</sup>, Univ. Mass. Lowell — Directors of Naturoptics for Safe Recovery of Vision, Inc., US Patent Office, April 8, 2008, trademark issued, grants “The David Matthew Mc Leod Memorial Award,” to individuals like Sylvia Flavia Ribeiro. Instructions at American locations enhance patenting, trade-marking, and propagation to individuals, and youth through parents. Naturoptics<sup>TM</sup> earnings go by agreed percentages to named academic entities and awardees who sign non-disclosure agreements. These say the US Government trademarked the processes as safe, and that diagnostic or treatment techniques are not used, necessary, or allowed for Naturoptic Methods<sup>TM</sup>. These educationally explain how the inventor, Roger David Mc Leod, recovered his vision. Taught processes are released to awardees signing agreements this is an educational service, providing teaching services for clients. Non-disclosure agreements are required from clients. Work-study grants, “The Kaan Balam Matagamon Memorial Award,” in memory of DMM, may be awarded through the American Indians in Science and Engineering Society, AISES, and to other women and minorities.
