Student Entrepreneurs as Active Leaders DAVID NORWOOD, JEAN FOTIE, DEBRA DOLLIVER, Southeastern Louisiana University — SEAL is a program of Southeastern Louisiana University Department of Chemistry and Physics, initially funded by the Louisiana Board of Regents and now self-sufficient, to teach important business and technology entrepreneurship skills to Southeastern students. In the process, the students answer scientific and technical questions for Louisiana businesses, putting the equipment and expertise of Southeastern faculty and students at the service of Louisiana businesses, large and small.
