Measurements of the release of alpha quartz: a new standard for impedance-match experiments