

Abstract for an Invited Paper for the PSF11 Meeting of
The American Physical Society

The Electron Cloud as a Limiting Factor for High-Intensity Particle Accelerators

BOB ZWASKA, Fermilab

The electron cloud is an accumulation of electrons in the vacuum of an accelerator. These electrons can cause instabilities in the beam and other negative effects in the accelerator. I will describe the electron cloud mechanism and a campaign of experiments at Fermilab to understand the effect and control it for future accelerators.